Major Storms Devastate Florida Communities

Over the past thirty days, two major storms have devastated many communities throughout Florida. As a consequence, our communities have sustained immeasurable damage that will require the unity of all Floridians in order to rebuild our homes and our lives. The Representatives of the Florida House stand ready to assist the people of Florida during this time of crisis.

In the aftermath of Hurricane Frances, several Representatives' offices are without electricity and phone access. While they are able to access email and voice mail remotely, please understand that it may take some time to reply to incoming messages.

For up-to-date district office contact information, please visit the Florida House of Representatives website at www.myfloridahouse.gov.
